EXTRA-REGIONAL MIGRANTS PRESENTED BEFORE MEXICAN IMMIGRATION AUTHORITIES

Comparing the first quarter of 2018, with that of 2017, there was noted growth of migrant flows from India. Likewise, presentations increased for nationals from the Democratic Republic of the Congo, (162.5%) and Cameroon (23.3%). But noteworthy is the decrease in the number of presentations of Eritrean nationals, which decreased by 47.4%, similar to the cases of Bangladesh (42.2%) and Nepal (24%).

REFUGEE ADMISSIONS FOR PERSONS FROM AFRICA IN THE UNITED STATES.

The number of refugees from Africa admitted in the United States during the first quarter of 2018 reduced by more than half compared to the same period for 2017.

OUTCOMES OF DEPORTATION PROCEEDINGS FOR INDIAN NATIONALS IN IMMIGRATION COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES.

From October 2017 to February 28th, 2018, the total deportation procedures of Indian nationals reached 92.3% of 2016 levels and 62.8% of 2017 levels. Considering that during the fiscal year 2018, about 106 cases are completed per month, most probably the total amount of deportations proceedings completed during this fiscal year will significantly increase.
CUBANS AND HAITIANS

RESIDENCE PERMITS APPROVED IN PANAMA FOR CUBANS AND HAITIANS

In Panama, a modest increase can be observed in the number of residence permits issued for nationals from Cuba and Haiti. When comparing residence permits issued during the first quarters of 2017 and 2018, there is a growth of 16.7% for Cubans.

CUBANS INADMISSIBLE AT THE SOUTHWEST BORDER OF THE UNITED STATES.

The total number of Cubans inadmissible in the southwest border of the United States from January to March decreased by 13.6% from 2017. This could be related to the suspension of the “wet foot, dry foot” policy as of January, 2017.

Haitian Inadmissible at the Southwest Border of the United States.

Official figures reveal a drop in the number of Haitians inadmissible at the southwest border of the United States. A decrease of 96.7% is observed in the first quarter of 2018 compared with the first quarter of 2017.

The elimination of the “Temporary Protection Status” TPS for nationals from Haiti, could account for the drop of Haitians trying to enter into the United States.

The data is the responsibility of the sources.
The deportation proceedings completed in the United States Immigration Courts for nationals of Haiti and Cuba show an important increase between fiscal years 2016 and 2017. In the case of Cubans, the increase was 36.1%. In the case of Haitians, the increase is even more evident, at 457% with 2258 more cases completed in fiscal year 2017 over 2016.

Furthermore, in the first five months of fiscal year 2018, the deportation proceedings completed for both Haitians and Cubans represented, 59% of the total for each during fiscal year 2017. This could indicate an increasing trend in the number of deportation proceedings completed for these nationalities.

OUTCOMES OF DEPORTATION PROCEEDINGS FOR CUBAN AND HAITIAN NATIONALS IN IMMIGRATION COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES.

The number of people born in Haiti and based in the Dominican Republic increased by 8.6% from 2012 to 2017. According to the National Survey of Immigrants in the Dominican Republic, people born in Haiti represent 87.2% of the country’s migrant population.
